Actor George Takei, who played the role of helm officer Sulu in the original TV "Star Trek" series, gives a "live long and prosper" hand gesture as he stands next to a Klingon character from "Star Trek the Next Generation" in the transporter room aboard the USS Enterprise spaceship during an exhibit at the Tech Museum in San Jose, Calif., on Tuesday. The exhibit opens on Friday and is one of the largest collection of authentic items from the "Star Trek" television and movie series.

'Latino in America'
9 p.m. • CNN
Soledad O'Brien anchors "Latino in America," a two-part examination of a population segment still considered a minority yet expected to reshape American culture and communities as its numbers triple between now and 2050. This ethnic shift is certain to force this nation of immigrants to re-examine and rediscover exactly what it means to be American.

Another 'Dancing With the Stars' celebrity is removed from show

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Natalie Coughlin won't be going for the gold on "Dancing With the Stars."

The 27-year-old Olympic swimmer and her professional partner, Alec Mazo, were eliminated Tuesday from ABC's popular dancing competition after viewer votes were combined with the judges' scores.

COUGHLIN & MAZO

The nine remaining celebrity contestants competing for the "Dancing with the Stars" mirrorball trophy are entertainer Donny Osmond, actress Melissa Joan Hart, model Joanna Krupa, professional snowboarder Louie Vito, former Dallas Cowboys wide receiver Michael Irvin, singers Mya and Aaron Carter and TV personalities Mark Dacascos and Kelly Osbourne.

Rihanna releases new single; album due out in November

NEW YORK (AP) — Rihanna is exposing her fans to more than her music with her new single, "Russian Roulette."

The singer is featured nearly topless on artwork for the song, covered only by what looks to be barbed wire. The photo fits the apparent theme for her new album, "Rated R," which is due out Nov. 23. It will be her first solo single since she was attacked by ex-boyfriend Chris Brown. "Russian Roulette" made its debut Tuesday on Rihanna's Web site, <http://rihannanow.com>

Chris Brown embarks on 'Fan Appreciation' tour

NEW YORK (AP) — It's safe to say Chris Brown does not have as many fans as he did before he attacked Rihanna. But he still has some, and he's going on tour to thank them next month.

The 20-year-old singer is kicking off his "Fan Appreciation" tour in Houston on Nov. 14. The venues are small, but a statement from his record company says it's to keep an "intimate" setting. A portion of tour proceeds are going to charities.

Brown

Brown, 20, was sentenced in August to five years' probation, six months of community labor and a year of domestic violence counseling for the February attack on Rihanna.

'Big Brother 9' champion accused of selling oxycodone

BOSTON (AP) — The ninth-season winner of the reality TV show "Big Brother" told a federal agent that he used his $500,000 prize to buy thousands of oxycodone pills and resell them, authorities said.

Adam Jasinski, 31, of Delray Beach, Fla., has been charged with attempting to sell 2,000 pills in Massachusetts to a government witness.

Comcast to debut cable shows online

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — You'll be able to watch popular cable television series such as HBO's "Entourage" and AMC's "Mad Men" on your computers by the end of the year without paying extra — as long as you're a Comcast Corp. subscriber watching at home.

Comcast will be the first cable TV operator to unlock online access to a slate of valuable cable shows and movies, aiming to replicate what's available on television through video on demand.

Time Warner Cable Inc. and others plan to follow as the pay-TV companies look to satisfy growing consumer appetite for online video while preserving subscription revenue. Comcast, wanting to make sure the shows will remain off-limits to non-subscribers, still is working on providing access over competing home broadband systems as well as on the go — at work, on laptops and, one day, over cell phones.
